

Job description COD4IS End of studies internship or work/study training program in Retail information systems

Introduction to COD4IS

Re-enchanting the customer experience of French and international brands: this is the raison d'être of COD4IS. Our information system consulting firm supports luxury players (LVMH, L'Oréal, Lanvin, etc.) in their digitalization projects in France and abroad.

Our consulting firm is labeled HappyIndex®AtWork and Tech®AtWork 2022. These two independent labels, established by ChooseMyCompany, rank the companies where tech profiles and employees are the happiest. Our onboarding process, our permanent support and the variety of missions that will be entrusted to you, will allow you to master the challenges and technologies of retail: this knowledge and experience will be an accelerator for your career.

Join us in this human and technical adventure at the service of brands and retailers! More information about our company on our website <https://www.cod4is.com>

Job offer

If you are looking for an end of studies internship or contract for a work/study training program within the universe of Retail and domestic/international consulting, here is what our fast growing office has to offer:

Your missions at COD4IS :

- IT project management
- Modeling and conceptualizing business needs in IT solutions
- Configuration of tools based on client needs
- Study and conception of specific developments or interfaces
- Change management

What we are looking for

Do you have the ideal profile?

- Fluid and clear communication in English and French
- Know how to adapt easily to your interlocutors
- Know how to manage priorities and give alert when needed
- Be concise
- Easily comprehend issues and render them intelligible
- Desire to evolve in a challenging and dynamic environment

Required Experience

You have achieved a Bac+4, Bac+5 (or equivalent) specializing in IT management, digital or IS management. Retail experience is not required.

This internship or work/study contract may result in the proposition of a permanent contract.

Work Environment

Cadre

	Job offer End of studies internship OR work/study training program	2022-10
---	--	---------

You will be based in the COD4IS offices in Paris, with remote work option or directly in the clients' offices. Travel is to be expected. Your missions will frequently be assigned as a team or duo in varying retail sectors (fashion, jewelry, etc.) within small and medium companies as well as large groups.

10 reasons to join us

To join COD4IS is to become part of a fast growing, yet human-sized company.

It's also starting the adventure by our Onboarding Program. Here, you'll contribute to every step of a project.

You will be part of a welcoming team where we often have after work drinks and participate in seminars.

Discover all the reasons on our website.

This end of studies internship or this work/study training program may lead to a permanent contract offer.

We are eager to introduce you to your next projects!

Want to apply? Need more information?

For this internship or work/study training program, send us your application (reference SFE) to contact@cod4is.com